AUSTRIANS AND ITALIANS CLASH IN SEA AND AIR.

PARIS, May 5.—West of the Meuse the Germans have strongly attacked the French positions north of Hill 304 says the official statement issued this afternoon by the French war office but they were repulsed along the whole front attacked except in one or two points in the advanced trenches.

An attempted attack upon the trenches at Cappy, south of the Somme, the statement adds, completely failed.

East of the Meuse and in the Woivre there was an intermittent bombardment. Otherwise the front was comparatively calm.

BERLIN, May 5.—(By wireless to Sayville)—A battle in the Adriatic between Italian and Austrian warships and aircraft is reported in a statement received here today from the Austro-Hungarian admiralty. The statement also says Austro-Hungarian ships have raised the Italian city of Ravenna.

The capture of several French trenches southeast of Hamecourt on the Verdun front was announced today by the war office. Reported French attacks against a German position west of Dead Man Hill broke down.

COPENHAGEN, (via London)—May 5.—The naval authorities at Stavanger, Norway, blew up the Zeppelin L-20 yesterday when it began to roll dangerously in a strong wind. Soldiers fired upon the airship from a distance of 60 yards. The Zeppelin exploded with great detonation and was burned.

The L-20 was one of the squadron of Zeppelins which raided the east coast of England and Scotland, Tuesday night. On her return journey she was blown ashore on the Norwegian coast, buried against a mountain side and wrecked.

LONDON, May 5.—The Norwegian schooner Mars, while bound for England, with pit props, was stopped and burned by a German cruiser, says a despatch from Copenhagen to the Exchange Telegraph Company. The crew was saved.

NOTE SATISFACTORY TO VON BERNSTORFF

NEW YORK, May 5.—Count Von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, left for Washington today on a 1 o'clock train after having received by wireless telegraph at his hotel here the text of the German note. The ambassador denied himself to interviewers.

It is known, however, that the German embassy view is that the note is all for which the United States asked; that it signifies a return to what has been termed "cruiser warfare"—that is, the operation of submarines as cruisers, intercepting commerce with visit and search. The embassy view is that inasmuch as no mention was made in the note of the question of armament is not a complicating feature.

ASKED TO FIND HEIRS.

COLUMBUS, O., May 5.—The Ohio supreme court has been asked to designate the heirs, said to number between 100 and 150, to the Joseph L. Wolcott estate in Toledo. The suit was brought by Mary Louise Wolcott, widow, against the Ohio Savings Bank and Trust company of Toledo, and Clifford C. Whitmore, executor of the estate. The suit, as filed with the supreme court, does not state how much property is involved.

U. S. WILL NOT ALTER ITS MEXICAN POLICY, WASHINGTON REPORT

Closing Conference Will be Held at El Paso to Ratify Terms.

American Marines Land to Quell Trouble in San Domingo.

WASHINGTON, May 5.—Indications today were that representatives of the United States and the Mexican de facto government ready to hold their last conference at El Paso, would reach a final agreement on the problems arising from the American military expedition into Mexico.

General Scott at El Paso had the ratification by President Wilson and Secretary Baker of the tentative agreement arranged Tuesday at the conference with General Obregon, Carranza minister of war. This was telegraphed him yesterday by Secretary Baker. The two generals were expected to meet again at El Paso today and complete the agreement. Details then will be made public.

EL PASO, Texas, May 5.—General Obregon, Mexican minister of war, may bring up the subject of a speedy withdrawal of the American troops in Mexico at his next conference with General Scott, according to information from Juarez.

He is not expected to press the matter, but simply again to urge upon the American conferees the danger of irritation to the Mexican people if General Pershing's column remains south of the Rio Grande, and of some consequent conflict that might lead to new complications. As far as the United States is concerned, however, it is pointed out that there is not likely to be any change of attitude.

MARINES LAND IN DOMINGO.

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic, May 5.—Marines were landed today from the American converted cruiser Prairie for the protection of the American legation. The situation growing out of the attempt of factional leaders to overthrow the administration of President Jimenez is critical.

Clock Hand Starts Up on Homeward Journey; 3 Days Left.

With $66,527 to the credit of the Y. M. C. A. campaign, the half-way mark was passed today at noon, and the clock hand starts on the upward trip toward the $125,000 total ahead of time. The army of solicitors is still ahead of the game, for past experience in seven-day campaigns for that sum prove that $62,500 is the customary result for the third day of campaigning.

Among the new subscriptions of $500 or more are the following, announced at the noonday luncheon today:

Michael Brothers$2500
Frank Colcord 1000
A. B. Wheeler 500
O. E. Sedgwick 500
M. E. Spurr 500

Another offering which deserved special mention is that of the Central Church of Christ, which although under the usual sum announced is entirely unsolicited and voluntary on the part of the donors. The contribution is for $50, and is made in the name of the official board by T. R. Hamilton, chairman, and Ray Johns, clerk. This amount was voted at a meeting of that body last evening.

In another column we print the reports made by the various captains today, with the totals for each team to date. The "We Are It" banner for the first division, under charge of George E. Bayly, was transferred from the squad captained by Dr. J. B. Poling to that of W. T. Feely, while the second division, under charge of Warren J. McLaughlin, transferred the pennant from W. C. Fridley to Mayor Bailie H. Simpson.

A telegram of encouragement from the chairman of the Ft. Wayne executive committee was read at the luncheon today. Within a few days the latter city will inaugurate a campaign for a $250,000 Y. M. C. A. building, and the general staff there is watching with interest the methods utilized by the Lima boosters.

The text follows: "Fort Wayne Campaign Executive Committee sends greetings and best wishes for Lima success. A. H. Perfect."

The attendance today was the best yet, for every team was better represented than at any previous meeting. The reports were received with applause, and interest seems to have reached a higher pitch than before. Among those who were present today were many business and professional men who have not been

Evasive Reply States That Captains of U-Boats Will Be Told to Warn Victims

BREACH IS NOT IMMINENT

U. S. Expected to Take Note As Good Faith, But First Violation May Precipitate Diplomatic Rupture

WASHINGTON, May 5.—President Wilson and the cabinet went carefully over the German note as transmitted in news despatches from Berlin.

A first feeling that it was unsatisfactory was somewhat leavened by the text of the new orders to submarine commanders, although it was foreseen that the reference to immunity for merchant ships recognized by international law might admit of some dispute of interpretation.

So much depends upon words and their shades of meaning involved in translation from German to English that no decision can be attempted until the official text is in the president's hands.

While final decision on the attitude of the American government waits on the official text, some cabinet members indicated that the German assurances probably would be accepted and that diplomatic relations would not be broken unless the order to submarine commanders was violated and American lives endangered.

Ambassador Gerard cabled today that he had started the debate on the cables last night. It ought to be in Washington tonight or early tomorrow. Two views were current in official circles. One was that Germany had declared her intention of abandoning her "present methods of submarine warfare" as demanded by the president, and that the American government might have to wait to see whether the abandonment will be effected. The other was that the United States, having already attempted to have Great Britain give up its interference with neutral commerce, and having told Germany that it cannot discuss with her its negotiations with Great Britain, has no course but to break diplomatic relations with Germany.

While the general tone of the German note created an unfavorable impression, officials took the position that the language was immaterial if the guarantees were real. Germany's declaration that she has issued new orders to submarine commanders not to attack without warning "merchant vessels recognized by international law" was considered the chief point. The German view of merchant vessels as defined in its declaration of February 8 of its purpose to sink armed ships without warning and the American memorandum made public recently differ in several points.

Some officials believed, that for this reason the controversy had now come to the point where Germany's future action would determine the course of the United States.

The refusal of the German government to openly admit the attack on the Sussex was considered only incidental to the main issue.

When the cabinet meeting broke up Secretary Lansing met all inquiries with this reply. "I cannot discuss it at all at this time."

All the other members of the cabinet made similar statements. It was made plain that President Wilson would decide after studying the official text.

FULL TEXT OF REPLY MADE BY GERMANY

BERLIN, May 5.—(via wireless to Sayville)—Following is the text of the German government note in reply to the American note on submarine warfare, delivered on Thursday by Gottlieb Von Jagow, the foreign secretary, to Ambassador Gerard:

"The undersigned, on behalf of the imperial government, has the honor to present to his excellency, the ambassador of the United States, Mr. James W. Gerard, the following reply to the note of April 20, regarding the conduct of German submarine warfare."

"The German government handed over to the proper naval authorities for early investigation the evidence concerning the Sussex, as communicated by the government of the United States. Judging by the results that the investigation has hitherto yielded, the German government is alive to the possibility that the ship mentioned in the note of April 10, as having been torpedoed by a German submarine is actually identical with the Sussex."

"The German government begs to reserve further communication on the matter until certain points are ascertained, which are of decisive importance for establishing the facts of the case. Should it turn out that the commander was wrong in assuming the vessel to be a man-of-war, the German government will not fail to draw the consequence resulting therefrom."

"In connection with the case of the Sussex the government of the United States made a series of statements, the gist of which is to be considered but one instance of a deliberate method of indiscriminate destruction of vessels of all sorts, nationalities and destinations by German submarine commanders."

"The German government must emphatically repudiate the statement. The German government, however, thinks it of little avail to enter into details in the present stage of affairs, more particularly as the government of the United States omitted to substantiate the assertion by reference to concrete facts."

"The German government will only state that it has imposed far-reaching restraints upon the use of the submarine weapon, solely in consideration of neutral interests, in spite of the fact that these restrictions are necessarily of advantage to Germany's enemies. No such consideration has ever been shown neutrals by Great Britain and her allies."

"The German submarine forces have had, in fact, orders to conduct the submarine warfare in accordance with the general principles of visit and search and the destruction of merchant vessels recognized by international law, the sole exception being the conduct of warfare against enemy trade carried on enemy freight ships encountered in the war zone surrounding Great Britain. With regard to these, no assurances have ever been given to the government of the United States. No such assurances are contained in the declaration of February 8, 1916."

"The German government cannot admit any doubt that these orders were given or are executed in good faith. Errors actually occurred. They can in no kind of warfare be avoided altogether. Allowances must be made in the conduct of naval warfare against an enemy restoring to all kinds of uses, whether permissible or illicit."

"But apart from the possibility of errors, naval warfare, just like warfare on land, implies unavoidable dangers for neutral persons and goods entering the fighting zone. Even in cases where the naval action is confined to ordinary forms of cruiser warfare, neutral persons and goods repeatedly come to grief."

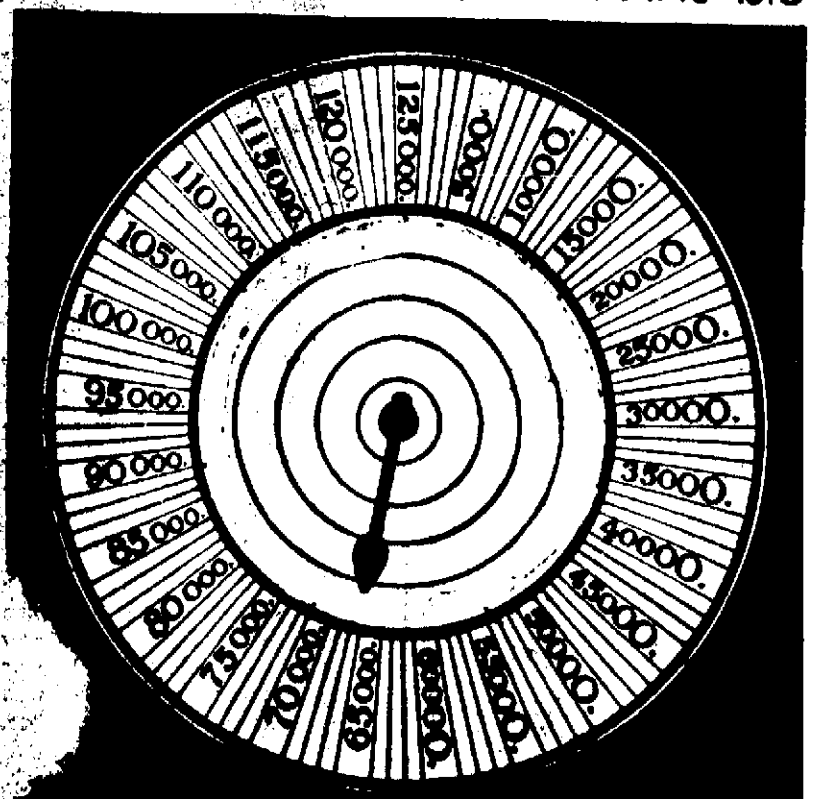

"The German government has repeatedly and explicitly pointed out the dangers from mines that have led to the loss of numerous ships."

"The German government has made several proposals to the government of the United States in order to reduce to a minimum for American travelers and goods the inherent dangers of naval warfare. Unfortunately the government of the United States decided not to accept the proposals. Had it accepted, the government of the United States would have been instrumental in preventing the greater part of the accidents that American citizens have met with in the seas."

"The German government still stands by its offer to come to an agreement along these lines."

"As the German government is

posteriorly declared, it cannot dispense with the use of the submarine weapon in the conduct of warfare against enemy trade. The German government, however, has not decided to make a further concession, adapting methods of submarine war to the interests of neutrals.

"In reaching this decision the German government is actuated by considerations which are above the level of the disputed question.

"The German government attaches no less importance to the sacred principles of humanity than the government of the United States. It again fully takes into account that both governments for many years co-operated in developing international law in conformity with these principles, the ultimate object of which has always been to confine warfare on sea and land to armed forces of belligerents and safeguard as far as possible non-combatants against the horrors of war. But although these considerations are of great weight, they alone would not under present circumstances have determined the attitude of the German government.

"For, the government of the United States on behalf of the sacred principles of humanity and international law, the German government must repeat once more, with all emphasis, that it was not the German, but the British government which ignored all accepted rules of international law and extended this terrible war to the lives and property of non-combatants having no regard whatever to the interests of right of neutrals and non-combatants that, through this method of warfare, have been severely injured.

"In self-defense against the illegal conduct of British warfare, while fighting a bitter struggle for national existence, Germany had to resort to the hard but effective weapon of submarine warfare.

"As matters stand, the German government cannot but regret the regret that the sentiment of humanity which the government of the United States extends with such fervor to the unhappy victims of submarine warfare are not extended with the same warmth of feeling to many millions of women and children, who, according to the avowed intention of the British government, shall be starved, and who, by suffering shall force the victorious armies of the central powers into ignominious capitulation.

"The German government, in agreement with the German people, fails to understand this discrimination, all the more as it has repeatedly and explicitly declared itself ready to use the submarine weapon in strict conformity with the rules of international law as recognized before the outbreak of the war, if Great Britain likewise was ready to adapt the conduct of warfare to these rules.

"Several attempts by the government of the United States to prevail upon the British government to act accordingly failed because of flat refusal on the part of the British government. Moreover, Great Britain again and again has violated international law, surpassing all bounds in outraging neutral rights. The latest measure, adopted by Great Britain declaring German passenger coal contraband and establishing conditions under which English bunker coal alone is supplied to neutrals is nothing but an unheard-of attempt by way of exaction by force of neutral tonnage for the service of their trade war.

"The German people know that the government of the United States has the power to confine the war to armed forces of the belligerent countries in the interest of humanity and maintenance of international law. The government of the United States would have been certain of attaining this end had it been determined to insist, against Great Britain on the incontrovertible rights to freedom of the seas. But as matters stand the German people are under the impression that the government of the United States while demanding that Germany, struggling for existence, shall restrain the use of an effective weapon and while making compromises with these demands a condition for maintenance of relations with Germany, confines itself to protests against illegal methods adopted by Germany's enemies. Moreover, the German people know to what considerable extent its enemies are supplied with all kinds of war material from the United States.

"It will therefore be understood that the appeal made by the government of the United States to sentimentality and principles of international law cannot under the circumstances meet the same hearty response from the German people which such an appeal otherwise always is certain to find here. If the German government nevertheless is resolved to go to the utmost limit of concessions it has been guided not alone by the friendship connecting the two great nations for over one hundred years but also by the thought of the great doom which threatens the entire civilized world should the cruel and sanguinary war be extended and prolonged.

"The German government conscious of Germany's strength, twice within the last few months announced before the world its readiness to make peace on a basis safeguarding Germany's vital interests thus indicating that it is not Germany's fault if peace is still withheld from the nations of Europe. The German government feels all the more justified in declaring that responsibility could not be borne before the forum of mankind and in history if after 21 months of the war's duration the submarine question under discussion between the German government and the government of the United States were to take a turn seriously threatening maintenance of peace between the two nations.

"As far as lies with the German government, wishes to prevent things from taking such a course. The German government, moreover, is prepared to do its utmost to confine operations of war for the rest of its duration to the fighting forces of the belligerents, thereby also insuring freedom of the seas, a principle upon which the German government believes, now as before, that it is in agreement with the government of the United States.

"The German government, guided by this idea, notifies the government of the United States that German naval forces have received the following orders:

"In accordance with the general principles of visit and search and the destruction of merchant vessels recognized by international law such vessels, both within and without the area declared a naval war zone, shall not be sunk without warning and without saving human lives unless the ship attempts to escape or offer resistance.

"But neutrals cannot expect that Germany forced to fight for existence shall for the sake of neutral interests restrict the use of an effective weapon if the enemy is permitted to continue to apply at will methods of warfare violating rules of international law. Such a demand would be incompatible with the character of neutrality, and the German government is convinced that the government of the United States does not think of making such a demand, knowing that the government of the United States repeatedly declares that it is determined to restore the principle of freedom of the seas, from whatever quarter it has been violated.

"Accordingly the German Government is confident that in consequence of the new orders issued to the naval forces the government of the United States will also now consider all impediments removed which may have been in the way of mutual co-operation toward restoration of the freedom of the seas during the war, as suggested in the notes of July 22, 1915, and it does not doubt that the government of the United States will now demand and insist that the British government shall forthwith observe the rules of international law universally recognized before the war as are laid down in the notes presented by the government of the United States to the British government December 18, 1914 and November 6, 1915.

"Should steps taken by the government of the United States not attain the object it desires, to have the laws of humanity followed by all belligerent nations, the German government would then be facing a new situation in which it must reserve to itself complete liberty of decision.

"The undersigned avails himself of this opportunity to renew to the American ambassador assurances of highest consideration.

"VON JAGOW."

COURT DIRECTS VERDICT.

Judge William Klinger directed the verdict in the case of the Fidelity Coal Company against James Watson and others, set for trial this morning. HOT WATER THE BEST LIVER AND BOWEL MEDICINE

Says Glass of Hot Water Before Breakfast Washes Poisons From System.

Physicians the world over recommend the inside bath, claiming this is of vastly more importance than outside cleanliness, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing ill health, while the pores in the ten yards of bowels do.

Men and women are urged to drink each morning, before breakfast a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, as a harmless means of helping to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible material, poisons, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Just as soap and hot water cleanse and freshen the skin, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the eliminative organs.

Those who wake up with bad breath, coated tongue, nasty taste or have a dull, aching head, sallow complexion, acid stomach; others who are subject to bilious attacks or constipation, should obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store. This will cost very little but is sufficient to demonstrate the value of inside bathing. Those who continue it each morning are assured of pronounced results, both in regard to health and appearance.

defended this suit. The court gave the coal company judgment for $23.98. They were suing for coal cement and supplies sold to Watson and his wife.

ORPHEUM PRESENTS MOUNTAIN PLAY

"The Shepherd of the Hills" is the offering of the Chet Keyes players at the Orpheum theatre, for the last half of the week. The play depicts the life of the mountaineers in some of the remote, backwoods districts of the United States. The play is taken from Harold Bell Wright's story, which created nation-wide interest when it appeared on the market. The cast of characters in order of their appearance, is: Mrs. Mollie Matthews, Mrs. B. Keyes, Preachin' Bill, Chet Keyes, Ollie Stewart, Dick Richardson, Sammy Lane, Helen Keyes, Young Mat, W. K. Hack, Dot Hewitt, Frank Bryan, Pete, Doty Keyes, Wash Gibbs, Ralph Menzies, Hank, F. L. Raymond, and Lem, W. J. Wilcox.

Act one represents the home of Grant Matthews in the Ozark mountains. The second and last act of the play shows Dad Hewitt's cabin. The third act shows the mill on Fall creek. The scenery used in the production is on par with that used in previous shows.

THE IDLER

Walter Simons, twenty-two year old colored lad wanted in Van Wert county on paternity charge, was taken from the city prison of Lima to Van Wert this afternoon, where he will be tried on the charge against him. He was arrested several days ago on advice from authorities of Van Wert.

Miss Okla E. Weaver, 19, of Beaverdam, and Ralph R. Benroth, 22, clerk, of Lima, were married in Monroe, Mich., Tuesday. Benroth is a clerk in the grocery of Edward Benroth at 421 East Market street.

Two of the horses at the central fire station will be turned out into pasture in the country if one of the triple combination trucks is delivered this afternoon. Another of the horses at this station will be turned over to one of the other stations of the city. These are the horses that have drawn the steamer to fires for a number of years.

The board of control have not come to any decision in regard to a site for the new fire station on the south side. Safety Director Gale states that some of the favorable locations are held at too high a figure. The fire house on the east side of the city will be located in Lincoln park, on Shawnee street.

Patrolman Taylor last night saved the life of the three-year-old son of S. J. Noonan, when the child ran on the Pennsylvania tracks in front of a speeding freight train, at the intersection of the railroad with Main street. The patrolman snatched the lad from the path of the moving freight just in time.

WEST CAIRO

On last Friday the Cairo schools closed. It was an ideal spring day and ball playing and other sports were enjoyed by both old and young. One of the enjoyable features of the day was the beautiful dinner spread at the noon hour in the town hall by the friends and patrons of the school. The children were marched in line from the school house to the hall where they surrounded the three long tables that were filled to the fullest capacity with all the good things the mothers and friends of the children could think of serving. It was certainly a pleasure to witness the children enjoying their dinner. Then in the afternoon after the dinner was cleared away the children gave a lengthy program of music, recitation and song which was very creditable to them.

On last Saturday evening the Scientific Temperance Essay contest by the township and village schools was held at the town hall. The essays were all so good that it was decided to have the three best written in the eighth grade class and the three best written in the seventh grade class read by the pupils writing them. In the eighth grade class, subject, "Alcohol, Athletics and Business," Miss Ruby Armentrout, Cairo, received first prize, $1; second prize, 75c; Miss Ruby Berry, Cook school; third prize, 50c; Miss Edith Weaver, District No. 7. In the seventh grade, subject, "Cigarettes, Its Relation to Good Health and Scholarship," the first prize, $1, was won by Lulu Stoner, Cairo; second, 75c, was won by Frederic Amstutz, Rockport school; third prize, 50c; Lloyd Lora, Cairo, in the recitation contest. Miss Blanche Leedy received first prize, 75c; second prize, 50c; Alice Schlot, third prize, 25c; Caroline Moeller. Splendid music was furnished throughout the program and altogether it was a success in every way, and $16 were received at the door.

The S. T. I. department of the W. C. T. U., under the leadership of Mrs. Cora Wert, superintendent, have placed The Compendium of Truth, a book full of scientific temperance facts, in all the schools of the township and the Compendium and a set of the Gullik charts in the Cairo schools.

Dale Jennings, superintendent of Vaughnsville schools, Miss Wilson, English teacher, at Vaughnsville, and D. A. Wood were selected by the committee to act as judges on the essays.

Grove, was a Sunday guest of W. G. Fowler. Mrs. George Ruffner moved her household goods to Toledo, Monday. They have rented their property to a Mr. Kilgore, of Virginia. Miss Sallie Wood, of Tuscarawar county, is visiting friends in Cairo and vicinity. Mr. and Mrs. Dan Harper, Sr., went to Scott, Sunday, to attend the funeral of Rev. C. M. Drury.

THE CRITICAL MOMENT

It's a rather important time for everybody concerned; the boy is awkward, and a little bit excited; the mother is apt to be somewhat moved over "losing her little boy;" the father inclined to be proud at seeing him a "regular man."

Our illustration tells the whole story graphically; and father, or mother, or the boy who has been there, or just come to that point, will appreciate the situation at a glance.

You can see how very important a matter it is to have the right clothes for such an occasion. They must be "manly" for the sake of the boy and his father; and youthful enough to save the mother's feelings as much as possible.

Here are clothes that are young in looks without being childish—just the kind to start the boy right.

THE STRANGER

There are perhaps citizens in Lima who have been solicited by various members of the campaign army now engaged in raising funds for the proposed new Y. M. C. A. building who have never stopped to consider what the structure will mean to any save themselves—a selfish and un-Christian angle from which to view the project. Place yourself for a few minutes in the role of the stranger coming to Lima to work.

Assume that you are a young man or boy coming to the city a stranger, unacquainted and homeless as far as Lima is concerned. There are many such youths every year. You alight from a car knowing little or nothing of the city. Under present conditions the institution we are now considering can offer a reading room, a shower and the addresses of a few boarding houses.

There is nothing less cheerful to the stranger than the first aspect of a small two-by-two bedroom with only room for a chair and a dresser or chiffonier. The fellow boarders with whom the stranger partakes of his fare are perhaps located similarly in life, but there is among those who share his lot many whose attitude toward life is unusual or abnormal. The means are devoid of interest. Companionship is absent, enjoyment among the members of the group impossible and pleasure out of the question.

Suppose the city of Lima erects the new building. The boy or young man who comes here will find a cozy room where he may be cared for with all the latest conveniences. The cost will be small. He is surrounded by other men of his own age, interested in the same problems and confronted by the same conditions. His surroundings will be clean, wholesome and pleasant. He will have at his disposal all which the member of the most exclusive club enjoys. Instead of being led through loneliness to gravitate toward vice and idleness at night, he will find in the Y. M. C. A. congenial friends with whom association can be happiness. Instead of seeking questionable pleasures he will play the mandolin, sing and chat with others who can combine to make his spare hours too pleasant to permit the thought of a downward step.

Note the contrast. The young man without a place attractive enough to be homelike flays out alone to relieve his loneliness by any means which money can buy. To keep from realizing his outside position he will spend his savings trying to make acquaintances, and they will doubtless be of the type which he should avoid. The boy living in a Y. M. C. A. will stay in the building, equipped with pleasures enough to keep him from falling a victim to temptations. His mind will be too busy to find time for dissolute pleasures. His career will be more nearly that of the lad at home or in a college than that of the homeless wanderer alone in the world and seeking for some outlet for his instinctive desire for companionship.

Now this may not strike home at once, but place instead of the hypothetical lad your own son. Consider him a stranger in a strange city. Would you rather have him starting out alone to find pleasures of an undesirable nature, or sitting around spending his spare hours with other lads of his age, reading in the "Y," conversing with clean cut young men and exercising his mind an abode in the right way?

Remember, some member of your own family might find occasion to use this Y. M. C. A. as a home in the future. And if it is a good thing elsewhere, why not here? Your own son is no more than the son of some other parent. A donation to the local movement is merely a donation toward a great national movement which has its branches everywhere and by which something for the stranger who comes to Lima can be something for every young man, including our son, who shall ever have a reason to start life in a strange city.

WILLIS AT BLUFFTON

A subscriber has inquired as to the motives of The Times-Democrat in heralding the fact that Francis Bartlett Willis will speak at Bluffton tonight. To him and to such others as may be interested we reply that we consider it the duty of Democrats to attend that speech.

The greatest argument against Willis is himself. No other man has done or will do so much to elect a Democratic governor in Ohio this fall. He is himself the Democratic text book for campaigners. His utterances have more effect toward hurrying his own cause than anything which a Democrat might say. Therefore we urge Democrats to hear him speak and gather from his remarks enough campaign material to help in his defeat.

Give Willis a chance and he will injure his campaign. Hand him a rope and he will cut his political throat. We do not believe the statement that "every time he opens his mouth he puts his foot in it," but we believe that he is his own best refuter.

To hear Willis is to vote against him. The governor who will neglect his duty to trot around the state sneering at his predecessors, talking wildly of himself and making a spectacle which cannot but react against F. B. W. is worth seeing. It furnishes the opposition with arguments. It gives inspiration to those who are in doubt. It discloses weak spots. It shows the man who is to attempt to force himself a second time on the state.

Go up to Bluffton tonight, if you have a chance, and behold the executive of the greatest state in the Union making himself a sight. Watch him stow away a few dozen gizzards and arise in his majesty and weight to utter solemn truths. Listen to him as he launches forth in a diatribe against his forefathers. Gather in his frenzied statements as he proclaims himself the chosen leader of a state. Keep tabs as he claims credit for the good work of his predecessors, and mark the number of times he contradicts himself. And if you have not armed yourself with facts with which to turn votes against him in November you are more than dull. He will furnish you with plenty of anti-Willis material.

The Republicans are to meet in Chicago June 6. It is believed that they will nominate a candidate for the presidency. If Ulan and Vennant will stick together again there is a chance that the aforesaid nominee will get as high as eight electoral votes.

The German note is one of the longest documents in the history of diplomacy. Is the Imperial Government trying to force a break by sending out this lengthy message during the paper shortage in this country?

The Y. M. C. A. may not be of any value to you on first thought, but did you ever stop to think that nothing which helps Lima will help you in the end?

Roosevelt must think Boot formidable. He has not confirmed the report that he will support Liliu.

For Mr. Kaysenham it must be stated that he did not actually jab his wrist with the needle.

Preparedness means at home. Victrolas will not be so high if you have a garden patch.

GOOD EVENING. Are you tired among the democrats?

NEW NOTES FROM MOVIELAND

By DAISY DEAND

THE LIMA BABA will be seen again very soon in "The Eternal Sapho" and as a matter of fact she is a village girl of the deepest dye. In this play, Miss Bala appears as a child of the slums, who rises from her squalid surroundings to the studios and fashionable society. See weeks the likes of many, including those who do the most for her. The cast includes Warner Oland, Frank Norcross, George MacQuarrie, Walter Lewis, Hattie Delaro, James Cooley, Einar Linden, Mary Martin and Kittens Reichert.

Theda Bara in "The Eternal Sapho."

Geraldine Farrar in "Maria Rosa." Geraldine Farrar is about to make her third screen appearance in "Maria Rosa." The story is laid in a Spanish province, and Miss Farrar appears as Maria Rosa, a young peasant girl for whose hand two friends are ardent suitors. Jealous prompts one to shift the evidence of crime against the other, who is put in prison Maria Rosa, believing him dead through forged evidence, marries the villainous suitor. On the wedding day the convict returns, in which situation Maria Rosa kills her new husband after he confesses his treachery, and the play ends with the promise of happiness. The cast includes, in support of Miss Farrar, Wallace Reid, Pedro de Cordoba, Horace B. Carpenter and Anita King.

Since Lillian Walker, or, as she is known to the moving picture world, "Dimples," has returned from Jacksonville, Florida, where she spent many weeks working in exterior scenes of her latest release she has received more letters than ever from the male sex. Each and every person who saw her in the "sunny south" has written her letters telling her how wonderful her work is on the screen and how they all love her. "Dimples" delights in these letters and declares that it makes one feel glad to know that they have friends in this old world.

The irony of art was strikingly illustrated the other day when Mary Pickford, in the role of a factory girl, was forced to know-how to an "extra" man who was playing the role of foreman in a few factory scenes. At the close of the day, Miss Pickford drove away from the factory.

AVOID SPRING COLDS. Sudden changes, high winds, shifting seasons cause colds and grippe, and these spring colds are annoying and dangerous and are likely to turn into a chronic summer cough. In such cases take a treatment of Dr. King's New Discovery, a pleasant Laxative Tar Syrup. It soothes the cough, checks the cold and helps break up an attack of grippe. It's already prepared, no mixing or fusing. Just ask your druggist or a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery. Tested and tried for over 40 years.

IT'S VERY SIMPLE

Clean Out the Waste—Headaches, Disappear—the Skin Clears Up—You Feel Better Right Away.

Every day can be a good day, free from foul breath, coated tongue, pains in your side, dizziness, headaches and biliousness.

Only a small part of the food you eat is nourishment—the balance is waste and is passed from the stomach into the intestines to be discharged. If not removed promptly, it ferments and turns to poison which your blood absorbs. It makes the skin yellow and feverish; gives you a headache or makes you dizzy and bilious. The stomach and bowels should be flushed and cleansed each day by drinking a little Tollo Water before breakfast.

Pour out about one-third of a tumbler of Tollo Water and fill with plain drinking water, hot if convenient. The first glass will immediately relieve this constipated condition and put you in shape for a cheerful day. Continue to drink it each morning, and you will be done with constipation.

You simply can't have good health when the bowels are clogged. You should not use drugs, they excite the irritation and weaken the system. Go to your druggist today, get a bottle of Tollo Water. It only costs a trifle, and start tomorrow morning to free yourself from constipation. This truly wonderful water comes from Bowen Springs in the hills of Kentucky. Doctors send thousands of people there each year to cleanse their system of the accumulation of poison. There is no other water like it. The first glass will cleanse you.

Miss Iva Sheppard went barefoot so many days in a film play she couldn't get her dancing slippers on for a week. "The play, full of beach stuff, is called 'The Isle of Love'."

Blanche Sweet is to be shown next in a play called "Easy Money."

HEALTH HINTS

ODOR, TASTE SHOULD HELP DIGEST FOOD

"Man is an omnivorous animal and cannot afford to permit himself to be hurried at meals. It is impossible to bolt such food as the average person eats without injuring their health." So says Dr. S. G. Dixon, Pennsylvania commissioner of health. With the animal kingdom the sense of smell, as well as the sense of taste, enters largely into the enjoyment of the meal. This should be the case with mankind.

"Odor and taste, if properly exercised, have a tendency to stimulate the fluids essential to proper digestion. Chewing the food a reasonable length of time should assist us in enjoying the taste and flavor."

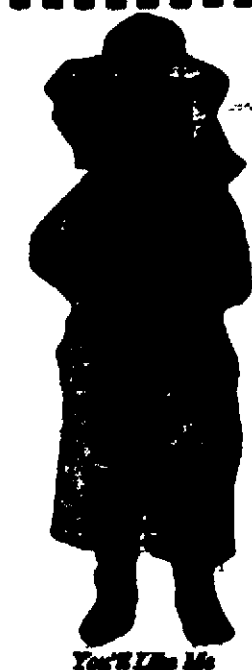

Eat What You Relish. "One of the essentials to good digestion is to eat those things which we relish unless the contrary is indicated by well established scientific knowledge."

"Civilization has dulled our instincts in this respect, but it survives to a certain degree in our relish for certain food stuffs. This relish should not be mistaken for the inordinate fondness for certain things. Everyone can distinguish between an occasional intemperate indulgence and a natural taste and relish."

Proper flow of digestive fluids is essential to good digestion. A liberal portion of fruit is suggested by most dietitians. It is a common belief that fruit is wholesome food.

Acids often irritate. "Acid fruits, however, are often irritating to the mucous membrane, and if the habit is long continued on a naturally weak digestion or with babies it will still further interfere with digestion."

"Almost every one who is using grapefruit or other acid fruit for food makes a mistake by eating it

PROGRAM PLANNED FOR MEMORIAL DAY

Mart Armstrong Post Appeals For Special Observance in Lima.

Efforts of the committee in charge of the Memorial day services this year is to make the day one of supreme interest to every class of citizen in Lima. The committee respectfully asks that entertainments of a nature, inclined to mar the precepts of the day, be dispensed with. Each year the ranks are growing thinner and the patriotic societies are banding together, hoping this year to afford a memorial day service long to be remembered by the veterans.

The Rev. W. J. Dunham, pastor of Grace Methodist church, will deliver the principal address at Memorial hall on the afternoon of May 30. The program which will be given will include vocal and instrumental numbers and Mart Armstrong post and patriotic societies will attend in a body. The public is asked to be present and fill Memorial hall to the limit.

In the morning the graves of soldiers who sleep at Woodlawn, Gethsemane and the outlying cemeteries will be decorated. It is earnestly desired that any and all residents who have conveniences which could be used to take soldiers to those cemeteries, will kindly donate the use of them in the morning to pay this humble service to the soldier dead. All who will aid are asked to notify Calvin Osborne, former commander of Mart Armstrong post.

The post and auxiliary patriotic societies will worship on Memorial Sunday in the forenoon at the First Christian church. The Rev. W. J. Young, new pastor of the church, will deliver the sermon. The choir, under the direction of R. B. Mitchell, will furnish special music.

In the evening the post and auxiliary societies will worship at St. Paul's Lutheran church, where the Rev. E. A. Trabert will deliver a sermon appropriate.

GOMER

Rev. J. Vincent Jones will deliver the baccalaureate sermon at the Congregational church next Saturday evening.

Rev. W. D. Williams was installed pastor of the local Presbyterian church last Friday evening, with the Revs. Dickens-Lewis, of Findlay, Harter, of Delphos, and Burdick, of Middlepoint, present to take part.

Misses Ruth and Martha Gamble, of Middlepoint were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Parth.

Bessie Huffer is recovering from the measles.

BLAME MOTHERS

Say Parents Neglect Primary Health Rules.

That many school children are being allowed to become chronically constipated through parents' oversight, is a startling fact brought to light by recent investigation by school authorities. Hastily snatched meals so that there will be more time to play, the use of ready-to-eat cereals, and the general neglect of the call of nature are given as principal causes.

It is the duty of mothers to see that children attend to the call of nature before going to school.

However, a laxative is sometimes needed, and this should be the old reliable, healing, natural vegetable treatment for constipation—castor oil—the only remedy that doesn't form a habit.

In the new jellied form known as CASTOR-JEL it is easy to take. CASTOR-JEL is simply 94 per cent pure castor oil, whipped into jellied form and with a delicious orange flavor added. On sale at all druggists.

MY CROWN
"My crown is in my heart, not on my head,
Not deck'd with diamonds and Indian stones,
Nor to be seen; my crown is called content;
A crown it is that seldom kings enjoy."
—Shakespeare.

IS YOUR CROWN in your heart, or since in this country you know you couldn't have one on your head, have you any crown at all? So few realize the wonderfulness of content, whose other meaning is happiness. Discontent is the common disease of every one in these days it seems to us, doesn't it to you? How many times do you wish for something you don't have, or have vague longings for something you don't know what? The rich man is envied his wonderful automobile by the poor man who has to walk, and the rich man in turn envies the poor man because he thinks he is the happier. And so it goes. One walks in a beautiful garden, but loses the beauty of the surroundings because he wishes he could walk in the gardens of the Luxemburg. The king in his palace yearns for the restful life of the peasant whose responsibilities are light, neither trying to gain for himself the real crown. The happy man is supreme because he is content, not with the content of the sluggard whose life is nothing, but with the content of the man who sees "sermons in stones," beauty in a dandelion, the goodness of God in every thing, and who does his best to add to the goodness of the world.

The justice of the plea on behalf of artists for a life equity in their work, says the C. S. M., so that increment of value as the painting or sculpture passes from owner to owner, should not wholly go to the seller, seems to appeal to many of the leading artists of the United States, now that the issue has been raised by the Authors League. The practicability of the project seems more debatable, as the necessity of framing a statute governing such title to property is realized; and it is not quite certain that, if a fairly satisfactory law were framed and made operative, it would most benefit the most deserving. Current debate of the issue, however, is not futile.

Members of the Primrose club met yesterday afternoon with Mrs. S. W. Ruff. In the contests played, prizes were won by Mrs. Rambo and Mrs. Berry. Mrs. Ross Wolfe and Mrs. Berry were taken in yesterday as new members. Guests at the meeting were Mrs. Frank Williams, Mrs. L. B. McMillen, Mrs. John Keller, Mrs. Ross Wolf, Mrs. B. L. Kidnaped MRS. EVA LEONARD
Olive Eileen Eagerly Grapes at a Straw of Hope.
KIDNAPED—NO 5
"I S THIS Mrs. Eileen?" A middle-aged man stood on the porch, holding his hat in his left hand. He looked with an expression of eager sympathy into Olive's face as he spoke.
"Yes; wasn't you come in?" Olive led the way to the living room.
"I read about your terrible trouble in the newspaper and I thought I might be of some help to you."
"Oh, if you only could help me find my darling baby!" breathed the stricken woman, clenching her hands in her lap.
"You see, I had a strange experience day before yesterday. I was driving home from Fairport when I overtook a woman walking and carrying a baby."
"How old was the child?" interrupted Olive.
"It was a big baby, somewhere near a year old, I should say," the man replied with deliberation.
"My baby was thirteen months," Olive showed increasing excitement.
"Tell me all you know," she pleaded.
"It was a hot day and when I came up to her I stopped and asked her to ride. She climbed in and rode with me for three miles. She got out at Judson's corner, saying she had to go down that road."
"What kind of a woman was she?" Olive leaned forward eagerly as she asked her question.
"She was slender and dressed in dingy black. I tried to get her to talk, but she would hardly speak a word on any subject."
"Did you see the baby?" Olive was trembling and her eyes looked feverish and bright.
"The baby was asleep and she shielded its face from the sun so I did not see it. She seemed very careful of it; hardly took her eyes off it, in fact." The man put his hands on his knees as if about to rise.
"Tell me more," pleaded Olive. "You say you could not get the woman to talk?"
"Hardly a word would she say. I got out of her that she did not live in these parts. You see, I have lived in this neighborhood all my life and I know the most of the farmers in this part of the country. I wondered how she came to be walking and carrying a heavy child on a hot day like that."
"What time of day was it?" asked Olive, drawing her chair closer to the side of her caller in her eagerness not to lose a word.
"It must have been between one and two o'clock. I was late getting home that day. I believe the paper said you missed your baby at noon," he continued.
"Yes, I looked at her just before we sat down to dinner and when we had finished eating the doctor went out to see her and she was gone. We found the buggy in the high grass by the side of the road just before the cross street joins the paved road. Where did you pick her up?"
"About a mile west of there. I told my wife when I read of your loss that I more than half believed I had helped some one to run off with your child."
"It was very kind of you to come and let us know. It may help us trace her. We are grateful for any clue to help us find her."
"I am sorry I cannot tell you more. This may not prove to be of any value in helping you find your baby, but I thought the circumstances were peculiar enough to warrant me in coming and telling you about them." The man rose to go.
"I am expecting my husband any minute now. He would like to see you, I am sure. Where can we find you?" asked Olive, extending her hand.
"My name is Farrer, John Farrer, and you can get me over the phone, Rural 53 W-4." Olive accompanied him to the door.

ITALIAN RECEIVES FIFTH DEATH NOTE
TOLEDO, O., May 5.—Believing that members of a Black Hand society are working in Chicago whence came a fifth and final demand yesterday upon Santos Ciragi, Sicilian business man, for payment of $500 or suffer death for himself, wife and children, two post office inspectors went to that city.
Since April 11, Ciragi has received five letters. "You will be killed," the last letter said, "and nobody will know how or when."
The fifth letter written in Sicilian like the others, was mailed in Chicago, and had a large blue cross on it. The others, mailed in Toledo, had a black cross. Ciragi says the blue cross is the death mark.
A ruse to ensure the letter writer was unsuccessful Tuesday night when Ciragi under police surveillance, walked down an appointed street carrying under his arm a basket containing $500. He was not accosted.
There isn't a mercantile in this city that will not do the right thing by the public. The people should help by keeping their money in Lima.

Foust, proprietor of the booth, had a narrow escape, when his clothing caught fire, but the flames were put out by another member of the carnival company.

LIVING PATIENT GETS A DEAD MAN'S NAME

COLUMBUS, O., May 5.—Reuben Huffman, 18, of Gallon, a tubercular patient at the St. Anthony hospital, Columbus, today had the extraordinary experience of not participating as a principal in his own "funeral," while Ralph Niebauer, 35, of Defiance county, a victim of the white plague, was still enrolled as living, though dead.
Niebauer died Tuesday in a ward not adjoining Huffman's. The ward cards became shuffled, and Huffman was reported dead. His family was so notified and the body forwarded. In the meantime, Huffman, was transferred to the Columbus hospital under the name of Niebauer. The mistake was not discovered and rectified until arrangements had been completed for the Huffman funeral, the relatives failing to detect the error.

HUSBAND OBJECTS TO OPERATION

Wife Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound
Des Moines, Iowa.—"Four years ago I was very sick and my life was nearly spent. The doctors stated that I would never get well without an operation and that without it I would not live one year. My husband objected to any operation and got me some of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took it and commenced to get better and am now well, am stout and able to do my own housework. I can recommend the Vegetable Compound to any woman who is sick and run down as a wonderful strength and health restorer. My husband says I would have been in my grave ere this if it had not been for your Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. BLANCH JEFFERSON, 703 Lyon St., Des Moines, Iowa.

Before submitting to a surgical operation it is wise to try to build up the female system and cure its derangements with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; it has saved many women from surgical operations.

LIKING AND DISLIKING
Copyright 1916, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

IT HAS always been very much easier for me to like people than to dislike them. At the same time, I think each one of us has prejudices which grow into veritable bugbears and which take some mental effort on our part to overcome. I have often wondered if it is because of cross currents that we often dislike people whom we have just met and whom we really do not know. Neither are we fair with them nor with ourselves if we do not try to find out their qualities which would endear them to us.
One thing I firmly believe in—that is, love or even liking, if it is not superlative, will always boom. A little child in our company whom we are all very fond of from the sheer happiness of being on this earth holds out her little arms to the people she sees walking on the street, and says, "I des luv evrybuddy."
When I was a youngster, I always wanted to hold out my arms to my audience—so much did I love them—but when it came to the individual I had very strong likes and dislikes. However, children, as a rule, are pretty keen in choosing the false from the real, for that is an instinct such as is given the small fat, "waddy" puppy, so he knows which hand will caress him and which foot is likely to kick him hickety-split into the street.
I remember well one woman named Mrs. Foley, who was an ever-visitor at our house, dropping in at all hours, but chiefly when the dinner bell called us to supper. She was what Lottie, Jack and I called a "squirrely woman," one who was always so effervescent, always saying so many nice things and never looking it, in fact. The man put his hands on his knees as if about to rise.
"Tell me more," pleaded Olive. "You say you could not get the woman to talk?"
"Hardly a word would she say. I got out of her that she did not live in these parts. You see, I have lived in this neighborhood all my life and I know the most of the farmers in this part of the country. I wondered how she came to be walking and carrying a heavy child on a hot day like that."
"What time of day was it?" asked Olive, drawing her chair closer to the side of her caller in her eagerness not to lose a word.
"It must have been between one and two o'clock. I was late getting home that day. I believe the paper said you missed your baby at noon," he continued.
"Yes, I looked at her just before we sat down to dinner and when we had finished eating the doctor went out to see her and she was gone. We found the buggy in the high grass by the side of the road just before the cross street joins the paved road. Where did you pick her up?"
"About a mile west of there. I told my wife when I read of your loss that I more than half believed I had helped some one to run off with your child."
"It was very kind of you to come and let us know. It may help us trace her. We are grateful for any clue to help us find her."
"I am sorry I cannot tell you more. This may not prove to be of any value in helping you find your baby, but I thought the circumstances were peculiar enough to warrant me in coming and telling you about them." The man rose to go.
"I am expecting my husband any minute now. He would like to see you, I am sure. Where can we find you?" asked Olive, extending her hand.
"My name is Farrer, John Farrer, and you can get me over the phone, Rural 53 W-4." Olive accompanied him to the door.

I really had no idea—I never would have dreamed of such a thing!"

Sometimes mother would catch us at this game, and she would scold us for its savagery. At the same time, I remember seeing little smiles crinkle the corners of her lips when her visitor would arrive and she would see us three children slipping off to the dining room to play our game of Foley.

But we three children were not so far from being right, after all, as Mrs. Foley was the first one, when our father died and mother was left to support not only her children but our paralyzed grandmother, to turn away and refuse us even the sweet consolation of friendship. This would have meant so much to mother through that desolate and unhappy period after the death of one whom she had so loved as my father.

But there are hundreds of these Mrs. Foleys in the world, although I always say about them that they alas! are the sufferers—they are the ones who cheat themselves at life's solitaire.

Answers to Correspondents

G. T. H.—Have you ever tried bathing your eyes in boracic acid? Many people wear dark glasses at the theatre when they go to see pictures. It relieves the eyes somewhat. If I were you I would see an oculist.

Herbert O.—I have never smoked cigarettes, not even in a picture. But you cannot judge of a woman's character because she smokes; many of the most famous continental women are inveterate cigarette smokers.

Goldie May.—It was not I but Mary Miles Minter who played the leading part in "Dimples." So many people have noticed a resemblance between us.

Inquirer—"The Birth of a Nation" produced by D. W. Griffith in twelve reels, was also known as "The Clansman." It was indeed an epoch in the making of moving pictures.

Evelyn F.—Didn't you know that was Charlie Chaplin who played the part of the woman in the play by that name? Yes, indeed, Charlie Chaplin is a very good looking young chap when he is not in his funny make-up.

Shop Girl—"The Grind Eternal" is the name of our factory play, and we tried to draw it as true to life as possible. Marguerite Clark and I are not sisters.

THREE DIVORCE SUITS ARE FILED IN COURT

Three divorce cases, in succession, were docketed late yesterday afternoon in court.

Carrie G. Young asked for divorce from John O. Young, to whom she was married in Lima on December 23, 1912. They have one child, Donald Ashley Young, two years old, whose mother is supporting.

For three years he has been guilty of gross neglect of duty, the wife says, in that he failed to properly provide for her and their child and by his intemperance, caused her to work in a cigar factory to support herself and child. She asks custody of the child.

Catherine L. Morris asks a divorce from Grover C. Morris, to whom she was married on August 22, 1911. They have two children, Pauline, 21 months old, and Walter, 6 months.

Gross neglect of duty and failure to provide is alleged in the petition. She says she was compelled to support herself and the children and that her mother aided her. That he choked and beat her is also one of the charges made in the petition.

Carl John Hylander is plaintiff in a suit filed against Augusta Anderson Hylander. He claims they were married in 1898 in Sweden and that she is still in the old country, not coming to America with him. He wants the decree on the grounds of desertion.

PRESIDENT OHIO SUNDAY SCHOOLS COMING TO TRINITY

Dr. W. G. Clippinger, president of the Ohio Sunday School association will speak at Trinity church next Sunday evening. During the absence of Dr. Fuller, who is attending the general conference now in session at Saratoga Springs, N. Y., each Sunday's evening service is given over to some department of the church. Next Sunday evening the Sunday school will be in charge. Dr. Clippinger is a forceful speaker, and it is expected that many of the Sunday school workers of the city and county will take advantage of this opportunity to hear him.

Every effort should be made to prevent the attacks by giving the child a light supper and plenty of fresh air at all times. The child should be warmly clad when out of doors. Especially the feet should be well protected and under no circumstances should the child be allowed to remain with wet or cold feet. Then watch for the first symptoms, looseness, and give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy at once and the attack may be warded off. This remedy is a favorite with the mothers of croupy children and can always be depended upon. It is pleasant and safe to take. Obtainable everywhere. no-wed-fri

NEIGHBORS' TALK OF TANLAC IS THING THAT COUNTS MOST

POPULARITY WON ONLY BY PROOFS OF REAL MERIT

"WHAT PEOPLE SAY" IS MOST IMPORTANT THING, H. F. SCHROEDER HOLDS.

Tanlac, The Master Medicine, is being produced at the Tanlac Laboratories at the rate of nearly five million bottles a year.

The demand for Tanlac is greater than the supply.

Those facts constitute the record of the most popular reconstructive tonic ever offered the people. The only explanation of Tanlac's triumph is Tanlac's merit. Only true worth could gain and sustain the reputation which Tanlac won from the very first day the first bottle was taken from the drug store.

"Such enormous sales mean but one thing—that is, merit," declared H. F. Schroeder, The Tanlac Man, at the Charles M. Hunter Drug Store, 49 Public Square. "Tanlac is well advertised—advised thoroughly and efficiently. But advertising alone would not produce Tanlac's popularity."

"Back of Tanlac's triumphs in the drug store stand Tanlac's triumphs in the home. It is what the neighbors say about Tanlac that counts. Advertising may sell one bottle, but the person who gets and uses that bottle is the person that sells a dozen bottles. One person benefited by Tanlac may tell a score or even a hundred people about the medicine that helped him. People relieved from distressing and dangerous illness by Tanlac just can not keep their experience with Tanlac to themselves; they talk about it to every friend and acquaintance and stranger."

"Indigestion, dyspepsia, belching and bloating from gas, sourness and soreness of the stomach, inactive liver, biliousness, dizziness, kidney troubles, pains in the side and back, and headaches, catarrhal conditions, "spots before the eyes," weakness, nervousness, loss of appetite, sleeplessness, falling off in weight, foul breath, coated tongue and irritability—when people are relieved of those ailments, as thousands have been by Tanlac, it is natural for them to talk about Tanlac.

"People talk about Tanlac because Tanlac gives them something worth talking about—better digestion, more strength, more energy and ambition, more lasting health.

"That explains Tanlac's triumphs in Lima and in other cities of the United States."

"Yes, I have suffered with catarrh in a general way for the last two years," said Mr. W. P. Downing, of 512 West Market street, Lima, who is the janitor at the public library. "I certainly was in a general run down way. The mucus would drop down my throat during the night and sometimes it would be an hour before I could get my throat cleared in the morning. I could not eat my breakfast. I was restless at night and did not get sound sleep. "Several of my friends recommended Tanlac so I got a bottle. "Since I took Tanlac the mucus discharge has stopped and my head is always clear. I eat a good breakfast now, too. I know Tanlac has been a fine tonic for me because I sleep better and get up in the morning feeling refreshed."

HER INDIGESTION RELIEVED THROUGH USE OF TANLAC

NEW MEDICINE WORKED LIKE A CHARM FOR MRS. DAVIES, W. SPRING STREET.

"Tanlac helped me so much that I am very glad to recommend it," said Mrs. G. Davies, of 754 West Spring street, Lima.

"The one bottle I have taken has benefited me so wonderfully that I praise Tanlac whenever I have the opportunity. I had suffered for over two years, and to be relieved of my ill makes me eager to tell other people how I was helped."

Statements in the newspapers by men and women who have been helped by Tanlac attracted Mrs. Davies' attention to it. She took Tanlac hoping it might help her, too. Tanlac did not disappoint her.

"I had catarrh of the head for more than two years," Mrs. Davies stated. "It was most distressing. A mucus kept flowing from my nose into my head, and I would hawk and spit considerably."

"My stomach bothered me a great deal, too. I suffered from gas and bloating after eating, and my food would not digest well. I was quite wretched, I can tell you."

"The one bottle I have taken has relieved me of gas and bloating. The flow mucus from my nose into my stomach has stopped."

Tanlac has given thousands of other people relief similar to that experienced by Mrs. Davies. More than two hundred and fifty thousand men and women have publicly endorsed Tanlac, with the same enthusiasm that Mrs. Davies feels.

TANLAC THE PREMIER PREPARATION

The Tanlac man is now at the Chas. M. Hunter Drug Store, 49 Public Square, where he explains how the Master Medicine should be taken and the results that may be expected from its use. Tanlac may be obtained at the Hunter Drug Store, Main and Wayne Streets.

DESERTED BY WIFE; IS HELD AS INSANE

Corey, Old Soldier, Will be Heard by Van Wert Court.

H. A. Corey, who complained to the police department of Lima about a week ago, that his wife had left him and took with her a roll of $200, was arrested yesterday in Marion by Deputy Sheriff Wilson, of Van Wert and returned to the latter city, where he will receive a hearing in probate court on a charge of insanity.

In his story to Police Chief McKinney of Lima, he stated that he was about 70 years of age and that he had left the Sandusky Soldiers' and Sailors' home to get married. He claimed that he was on his honeymoon when his wife left him.

Because of the numerous stories Corey has told to officials of Van Wert, it is the belief of the latter that he is insane. As a result of the disappearance of the wife with his bank roll, Corey found it necessary to telegraph to Van Wert for funds to pay bills contracted in this city.

RHEUMATIC PAIN STOPPED. The drawing of muscles, the soreness, stiffness and agonizing pain of Rheumatism quickly yield to Sloan's Liniment. It stimulates circulation to the painful part. Just apply as directed to the sore spots in a short time the pain gives way to a tingling sensation of comfort and warmth. Here's proof—"I have had wonderful relief since I used your Liniment on my knee. To think one application gave me relief. Sorry I haven't space to tell you the history. Thanking you for what your remedy has done for me."—James S. Ferguson, Philadelphia, Pa. Sloan's Liniment kills pain. 25c at drug-gists.

AMERICAN SULLIVAN IS HELD AT DUBLIN

LONDON, May 5.—James M. Sullivan, of New York, formerly American minister to Santo Domingo, has been arrested in Dublin, on the charge of complicity in the Irish rebellion.

Mr. Sullivan sailed from New York last July for Liverpool, with his wife and son, saying he was going to Limerick, Ireland, to visit his mother. He said he expected to be back in New York by September 1. Shortly before he sailed Mr. Sullivan was virtually asked to resign his post as minister to the Dominican Republic, as the result of an investigation conducted by a commission headed by Senator Phelan, of California.

Freckle-Face

Sun and Wind Bring Out Ugly Spots. How to Remove Easily.

Here's a chance, Miss Freckle-face, to try a remedy for freckles with the guarantee of a reliable dealer that it will not cost you a penny unless it removes the freckles, while if it does give you a clear complexion the expense is trifling. Simply get an ounce of othine-dol's strength—from any drug-gist and a few applications should show you how easy it is to rid yourself of the homely freckles and get a beautiful complexion. Rarely is more than one ounce needed for the worst case.

Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength othine as this is (1) a preparation for removal of freckles back if it fails to remove freckles.

AUTHORS KILLED IN AUTO ACCIDENT.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 5.—Malcolm W. Strong, playwright, and Clinton H. Stagg, an author, of New York, were killed last night when an automobile driven by Stagg overturned on a country road near here.

FORTUNE TELLING IS STOPPED AT SHOW

Cigarettes Banned but Games of Chance Go Unhindered.

Police have been instructed to watch the operations of certain concession owners at the carnival grounds, corner Main and Murphy streets. This followed the report of several public spirited citizens that cigarette were given to boys who were successful in beating certain games of chance.

However, the only warning heeded was that issued by Safety Director Gale in regard to the discontinuance of fortune telling. All of the other games of chance were allowed to operate unhindered. At one booth you pay fifteen cents for three balls and try to throw them into a keg. One successful shot pays nothing, two wins 25c cents, and three an umbrella or one dollar. A little farther down the midway you can buy three hoops, with which you attempt to encircle articles placed at a distance on a series of steps. It is possible to find almost every game of chance along this line at the carnival.

SANTER WILL PROBATED.

LORIMER ACQUITTED OF BANK FRAUDS

Will Start at Once to Accumulate Money to Reimburse Depositors.

CHICAGO, May 15.—William Lorimer, former United States senator, who has been acquitted of charges of defraud in connection with the failure of the La Salle Street Trust and Savings Bank while he was president of the institution, said he would start out today to accumulate money with which to reimburse depositors who lost by the failure. The case had been on trial for 79 days in the superior court of Cook county and was given to the jury last night. After more than six hours' deliberation, the jury rendered its verdict shortly after midnight. A federal indictment charging misapplication of the funds of the La Salle Street National Bank, which later was denationalized and became the La Salle Street Trust and Savings Bank, is pending against Mr. Lorimer. Lorimer's defense in the case just closed was that although he was president of the bank, C. B. Munday, its first vice president, was in active charge and that the crimes of which he was accused were committed by Munday. The latter was convicted last November on charges similar to those of which Lorimer was acquitted and was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary.

Cincinnati Wins From St Louis In Ninth Inning

ST. LOUIS, May 5.—St. Louis' infield cracked in the ninth inning yesterday and Cincinnati made three runs, winning 4 to 2. In the ninth after Groh was thrown out and Herzog walked, Louden hit to Hornsby, who threw wildly to second, Herzog going to third. Mitchell batting for Schultz, grounded to Beck, whose throw hit Herzog going home. Herzog scored and Wingo's long fly to Bescher scored Louden. A single by Neale brought in Mitchell. Ames pitched a steady game but his support was ragged. Score: Cincinnati, 4; St. Louis, 2. AB. R. H. PO. A. E. Neale, cf, 4 0 1 0 0 0. Killefer, lf, 4 0 1 12 0 0. Chase, 1b, 4 0 1 12 0 0. POSTAL INSPECTORS AFTER 'MICKEY' SHEA

CINCINNATI, O., May 5.—Post-office inspectors in charge William McHenry of the Cincinnati division, postoffice inspection service, are sending out circulars to federal, state, and city authorities and private detective agencies for the arrest of John J. Shea, alias "Mickey" Shea, alias "Whisky" Shea, alias John Smith, etc., Toledo, Ohio, who is under indictment in United States district court, Toledo, Ohio, for misuse of the mails in furtherance of a scheme to defraud in connection with "wire tapping" operations alleged carried on by Shea and his associates at Toledo.

NAVY TESTS LARGEST SEARCHLIGHT KNOWN

NEW YORK, May 5.—A new searchlight, said to be the largest and most powerful in the world, has been tried out in the New York navy yard before army and navy officers. The rays from the searchlight swept across New York's skyline and caused thousands of wonder. Its lens is five feet in diameter and its effective range is ten miles, according to the inventor.

Cleveland Shuts Out Chicago In Fast Close Game

CHICAGO, May 5.—Cleveland shut out Chicago in a fast, close game yesterday, winning 2 to 0. The game was a double play, following a base on balls to Turner, gave the visitors their first run. Their other run was made in the sixth when Wambegans' double scored Roth, who had singled. Two lightning double plays deprived the locals of at least two runs, and probably cost them the game. Wambegans' catch of Lynn's drive in the seventh, when Chicago had men on second and third, with one out, started a double play, which saved the game for Cleveland. President Comiskey today announced the release of Joe Fautsch, infielder to the Richmond club of the International league. Score: Cleveland, 2; Chicago, 0. AB. R. H. PO. A. E. Grane, lf, 4 0 0 2 0 0. Give only plain nourishing food, lots of outdoor exercise and put to bed early. Watch stools and continue giving Kickapoo Worm Lozenges, they will positively remove the worms. 25c at druggists.

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

Sage Tea and Sulphur Turns Gray, Faded Hair Dark and Glossy. Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients for about 50 cents. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

Neighbor Told Her Cure for Lumbago

Rheumatism and lumbago are awful things and cause great pain and misery, but Foley Kidney Pills can rout them. Mrs. G. H. Cleveland, Duncan Mills, Ill., writes the following letter: "I was stricken down with lumbago and was unable to turn myself in bed. A neighbor brought me a half bottle of Foley Kidney Pills, and said she had been similarly afflicted and that they had helped her. So I tried them and was completely relieved by the use of two or three bottles. I have had splendid success with them and have never known them to fail. I most heartily recommend Foley Kidney Pills." Foley Kidney Pills tone up weak, inactive, sluggish kidneys, rid the body of poisons, give appetite, energy and refreshing sleep after pain. Don't neglect kidney trouble. Remove the cause with Foley Kidney Pills. B. F. VENTRAMP.

HALF-WAY MARK PASSED BY FUND FOR 'Y' BUILDING

regular attendant, and some made their initial appearance.

Addresses were made by Henry G. Wemmer, head of the general committee and the first donor to contribute, Robert J. Plate and State Secretary, A. H. Lichty, of Columbus. Mr. Wemmer's remarks were encouraging, and he told of obstacles which the solicitors will meet. The first half is always the easier to secure, he stated, but announced that many prospective donors have not yet been interviewed by the general staff and that the project cannot now fail because of lack of support. Mr. Lichty confined his remarks to a resume of the work of the Y. M. C. A. in Ohio and the arguments which solicitors may utilize in the campaign for subscriptions. Mr. Plate exhorted the teams to renewed efforts, telling them how vital the success of the work would prove to Lima's future growth.

Interest in the illuminated clock on the front of the old Masonic temple, Main and High streets, has reached a stage where every passer stops to look at the position of the larger hand. Every afternoon the arm is swung to a new point farther around the dial, and today it will pass well beyond the halfway mark. Red lights display illuminate the hand which points to the total raised to date, while the shorter one points to the date. White lights encircle the dial, making it easy to read the figures at night.

NEXT PRIMARY IS TO ELEVATE COST FOR CANDIDATES

or county payrolls file their petitions June 8, however, they will find that it costs more than a campaign fund to run for office. As elections require great expense, the state of Ohio now charges a small fee payable at the time of filing petitions, no matter whether or not the aspirant connects with the treasury. The fee is based on the salary for the first year of the term of the lucky man, and the scale for county jobs runs as follows: Auditor, $12.05; treasurer, $12.05; probate judge, $12.05; sheriff, $8.75; clerk of courts, $10.55; recorder, $8.00; prosecuting attorney, $8.00; surveyor, $9.80; commissioner, $5.51. The uneven figures read like the advertisement of a marked-down bargain sale.

Francis Bartlett Willis, alleged governor of Ohio and champion gizzard-consumer of ononesque Hardin county, will appear this evening at Bluffton college, where food is to be served as an inducement. How he will appear is yet to be seen. Local republicans are not observed to be chartering extra cars or anything like that, and it is safe to state that the exodus will not be noticeable from his end of the trip. There are a few, however, who either admire the governor's decentralizing administration or want to enjoy a slang-fest.

John L. Cable is passing out the tickets at seventy-five pence a throw—or should it be spelled "three"?—and reports that the seats for the "bankwett" have all been sold. The natural assumption is that there were few printed. But there are still many who want to hear the governor, for it is not impossible that he will tell more about the lousy knights and unbathed ladies of the dark ages.

Cable vouchers for the fact there will be a flock of republicans on the car for Bluffton tonight, and as he is a candidate for prosecutor the size of the crowd may be due to his personal efforts. It may or may not be good policy to seek a nomination after boosting a Willis dinner, but John evidently thinks it is.

Fourth district papers, unable to get a chirp out of the scores of "mentioned" candidates for congress, have resorted to many grapevines in order to dig up the appearance of news. Some of the editors are getting irritable over the lack of printable stuff—and there is plenty of unprintable matter on this congressional proposition, for about a dozen "leaders" are telling everybody something or other "in strictest confidence." But as a sample of the desultory crossfire between papers around the district we submit the following excerpt from John L. Sullivan's St. Marys Evening Leader:

"The Celina Standard demands that the fourth district democrats shall produce a candidate for congress who can unite all of the factions and win at the election. Well, Frank, why don't you name your man? If you have something up your sleeve, there is no use beating around the bush about it. If there was ever a time when Mercer county did not have one or more active and several receptive candidates for congress, it must have happened before we began to keep tab on things political. So, if Brother Snyder has some candidate in the offing, he may as well come out into the open first as last. Throw off the veil of mystery, please."

STOCKS FALL THEN GAIN ON WALL ST.

NEW YORK, May 5.—The German note was the overshadowing feature at the opening of today's market, stocks manifesting acute weakness on heavy liquidation. Initial declines ran from 2 to 6 points in the better known specialties, including war issues and various industrial and equipment, while Bethlehem Steel fell 19 points. A very considerable part of the selling originated from interior sources, commission houses with connections in the middle west being among the most active participants in the liquidating movement. Rails showed more resistance to the declining tendency than any other parts of the list. Recoveries of substantial proportions were shown by some of the favorite stocks before the end of the first half hour.

Additional recoveries were made in the course of the first hour, supporting orders being most effective in the prominent issues, some of which made up almost all their loss while Reading, American Smelting, United Fruit and some of the obscure stocks showed actual gains. Dealings fell away on the rebound, however, and at midday signs of fresh weakness were seen. Traders were disposed to adopt a waiting attitude until conditions arising from the international situation assumed more definite form but the many conflicting opinions respecting the German note, gave courage to the short interest which became more aggressive. Bonds were irregular.

MRS. WELTY, AGED 83 DIES NEAR BLUFFTON

Was Mother of Seventeen Children of Whom Twelve Survive.

Funeral services for Mrs. Katherine Stelner Welty, widow of the late Fred Welty, and mother of Attorney B. F. Welty and the Rev. A. D. Welty, of Lima, will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at St. John's German church a mile east of Pandora. The Rev. W. S. Gottschall, of Bluffton, will officiate. Interment will be in the church cemetery.

Mrs. Welty died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. C. Basinger, three miles north of Bluffton, last night at the age of 83 years. A year ago she sustained a severe fall and broke her hip. Physicians had declared there was little help for her on account of her advanced age. But she was in seeming good health until just before Easter, when one of her grand-sons was attacked with black diphtheria and died, being buried the next day. The shock caused her to become ill and resulted in her death.

Her grand father, Ulrich Stelner, was the first elder in the Mennonite church near Pandora and Bluffton, coming from Belfor, France, with a colony of Swiss Mennonites, in 1832, because of persecution. He established the first Mennonite settlement along Riley Creek, which was the first Mennonite settlement in western Ohio at that time. Mrs. Welty was two years old when she came to this country.

She was the mother of 17 children, of which 12 are living. They are: W. F. Welty, Cumberland, New Mexico; the Rev. A. D. Welty, of Lima; A. J. Welty, of Apple Creek, O.; Noah J. Welty, of Palsade, Nevada; Dr. E. M. Welty, of Spokane, Wash.; J. C. Welty, of Marion, O.; A. B. Welty, of Racine, Wisconsin, sons, and Mrs. D. C. Stiner, of Pandora; Mrs. J. C. Basinger, of Bluffton, Mrs. D. W. Stelner, of Orville, and Mrs. Sarah W. Shafer, of Calgary, Canada. Sixty grand children are living and she has 23 great grand children.

WHEAT PRICES DOWN AS CRISIS COMES

CHICAGO, May 5.—Lower prices on wheat resulted today from nervousness over the German note.

Opening quotations, which ranged from 1/4 to 1 1/4 @ 1 1/4c lower with May at $1.13 1/2 to 1.13 and July at $1.13 to 1.13 1/2, were followed by slight additional setbacks, and then something of a rally.

Corn receded with wheat although pressure to unload seemed to be mainly of a scattering kind. Support for prices was not as good as the rule has been of late. After opening unchanged to 1/4 @ 1/4c lower the market underwent some further losses.

Oats merely paralleled the action of other cereals. Price changes were comparatively small.

Weakness of grain spread to provisions. For the time being, higher quotations on hogs appeared to be ignored.

The wheat close was weak at the same as yesterday's finish to 1/4c, with May $1.12 1/2 and July $1.13 1/2.

The corn close was steady, the same as yesterday's finish to 1/4c.

The close was: Wheat, May $1.12 1/2; July $1.13 1/2. Corn, May $1.13 1/2; July 76. Oats, May 47; July 43. Pork, July $23.65; September $23.35. Lard, July $13.00; September $13.07. Ribs, July $12.77; September $12.90.

CIVIL SUIT INVOLVES

CIGAR STORE AND LAND

CHARLES F. Adams and his wife, Eva M., today filed a civil action in court against George B. Lilly and Alpha Ditzler, former owners of the Stag cigar store and pool room in the Holland building. They sold the cigar store, the petition states, to Adams and his wife on March 30, 1916. Adams and his wife exchanged 5 acres of land in township four for the store, and Lilly and Ditzler were to pay $1,200 difference and assume a mortgage loan of $800 on the land.

They paid but $25 and still owe Adams and his wife $1,175, he says, and fraudulently secured the deed to the premises, which was in escrow, and had the deed be annulled, cancelled and set aside by the court and that he and his wife be given judgment for $1,175 with interest.

WESTMINSTER

George Hoover and wife and Mrs. W. H. Rudy, of Harrod, took dinner with Miss N. A. Ashing last Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Jacobs are the parents of a new son, born last Tuesday at the City hospital. Mr. Jacobs is one of our grocery merchants.

Mrs. Mary Van Skille has moved in the Jasper Gosard property on church street.

Mrs. Gertrude Bowyer visited her mother, Mrs. Blair, last Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. James Clark are guests of the latter's mother, Mrs. Joseph Anderson.

Mrs. H. S. Rudy, of Harrod, called on Mrs. Elizabeth Boyd, her sister, last Tuesday.

Cloyd Shelly has moved on the "Jack" Crops place, and will work for L. C. Kline, who has the place rented.

Our school closed last Friday with a big dinner as usual. The term was very successful under the efficient labors of professors Driscoll, Heffner and Miss Evans.

Our little town is stepping to the front some. We now have three stores and an electric plant which furnishes light for the store and offices of the owners.

Mortimer Turner and Miss Flora Dempster were married last Tuesday. They took a trip to the eastern part of the state, returning Tuesday and the whole country turned out and gave them an old fashioned belling. Mr. and Mrs. Turner were both very successful teachers in the public schools of the southern part of Allen county and are extensively known.

Dr. Roberts is improving his home with a fine big veranda on the front, and many other improvements.

Mrs. Frank Yeazel and Miss A. Ashing spent last Friday afternoon with the Misses Samantha and Oro Williams, of Billtown.

NOT YET, BUT SOON!

CHICAGO, May 5.—The woman's party convention here June 5-7 does not contemplate the nomination of a woman presidential candidate. Statements that a woman would be nominated have been credited recently to Miss Alice Paul, chairman of the Congressional union, but Miss Paul said that the wrong interpretation had been put on her words.

ROTARIANS WILL BE SHOWN GOOD ROADS

Cincinnatians to Commandeer 500 Touring Cars for July Meet.

CINCINNATI, May 5.—Five hundred touring cars bearing more than two thousand members of the International Association of Rotary clubs and their families will visit Cincinnati, July 16-20, at the time of the Rotary convention. Convention touring parties are being arranged from as far west as Missouri, as far east as New York, north as far as Michigan and south as far as Miami, Florida. Tourists from east and west will use the Lincoln highway and the National Old trails. Those from north and south will make their tour to Cincinnati, over the Dixie highway. It is declared by officials of the Dixie highway, that this new artery of travel will be in condition for automobile tourists throughout its length on the Cincinnati division with the exception of a few spots in southeastern Kentucky, where the going will be rough. The appearance of automobilists at the Rotary convention will be a convention novelty which is expected to become more common later in the year and in years to come, as roads are improved and the national good roads propaganda spreads from coast to coast. More money is being expended this year for the improvement of roads in America than ever before in history. Indications are that state and national appropriations for roads will be greater next year and in years which follow. A popular demand, not only from automobilists but from residents of rural districts is behind these appropriations. Good roads are common in Ohio and in the state surrounding it, thus making a trip to the Rotary convention at Cincinnati easy and practical.
